

Summer Orchard Stewardship Series

Learn the essential skills of summer fruit tree pruning and seasonal orchard stewardship while helping to care for one of Sacramento's community orchards.

We'll explore the craft of pruning, the tools that make it possible, and apply the seasonally appropriate practices to support the fruit trees, soil and gardens at each unique community orchard.

These events are offered in collaboration with the Civic Urban Farmer Program and the California Alliance for Community Composting to support fruit tree stewardship skills development and community capacity building.

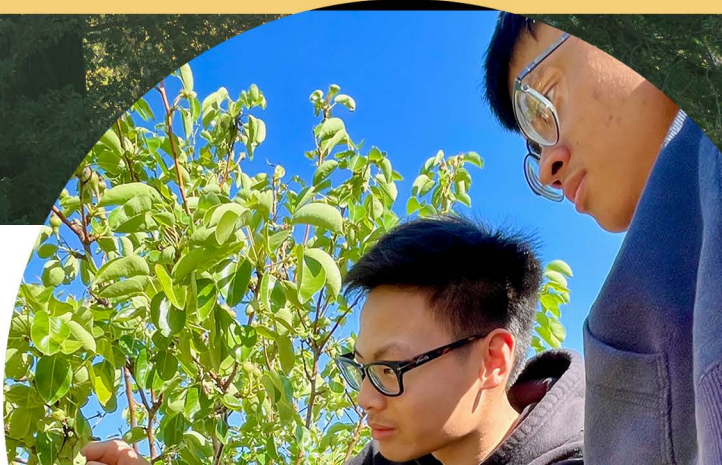

Workshop Schedule

Saturday June 8th, 10am - 1pm at Fruitridge Community Collaborative Orchard with the Yisrael Family Farm

Sunday June 9th, 9am - 1pm at Mirasol Village Community Garden with Alchemist CDC

Saturday June 15th, 9am - 1pm at True Beginnings Community Orchard with the Del Paso Heights Growers Alliance

Saturday June 22nd 8:30am - 12:30pm at the Urban Oasis Community Garden with Common Ground Church

Instructor Bio

Dominic Allamano is an urban agroforester and experiential educator working at the intersection of urban food system revitalization, climate change adaptation and the long term reconnection of communities and the land they inhabit together.

He is passionate about the necessity of reimagining our relationships to our neighborhoods in ways that will improve long term ecological and community wellbeing, while expanding food access and enhancing climate change resilience.

He provides artisan fruit tree pruning and care, soil health services and related skills education and mentoring to organizations and residents throughout the Sacramento region.
